Synchronised Action Days 2008

Synchronised Action Days are a tool to share and disseminate our best practices, to increase the visibility of our activities and to “brand” hundreds of parallel activities in Europe with the joint SAD logo. DARE strives to showcase the amazing variety and the impressing number of initiatives on local, regional, national and European level carried out by DARE members and partner organisations in the weeks around Human Rights Day 2008, 2009 and 2010.

In this brochure, the Synchronised Actions 2008 are listed alphabetically according to country and city. Nationwide or Europewide activities are listed at the end of each section. If you need assistance in getting into touch with the organizers (for sharing best practices, inviting each other etc.), don't hesitate to contact us at www.dare-network.eu.

Synchronised Action Days 2009:

You are very welcome to send your activity report to the DARE office until Oct 30, 2009. Check www.dare-network.eu for a download of the activity report form.

DARE - Democracy and Human Rights education in Adult Learning - is a Europe-wide network of NGOs and other organisations devoted to raise the profile of education for democratic citizenship (EDC) and human rights education (HRE), promote transcultural and transnational cooperation, and enhance the quality of education within these fields. DARE aims at achieving recognition, visibility and adequate resources for EDC and HRE as a core obligation for the formal and non-formal education systems throughout Europe.

DARE has been established to address three shortcomings in the present arrangements for European NGOs carrying out invaluable work in EDC and HRE:

- The prevalence of NGOs which tend to work without adequate resources and in isolation, and whose access to information is therefore inhibited, to potential European partners, and to effective lobbying
  - The tendency to treat separately the distinct but nonetheless closely interrelated fields of HRE and EDC
  - The distance between research and practice, academia and activists, political scientists and educators in EDC/HRE
- Subscribe to the e-DARE newsletter and get regular updates on current developments in European HRE and EDC issues.
- Read and contribute to the DARE blog and get involved in an ongoing exchange of expertise.
- Join the DARE network and collaborate with network members in more than 25 European countries.

DARE network

- Objectives

DARE is a Europe-wide network of NGOs and other organisations devoted to raise the profile of education for democratic citizenship (EDC) and human rights education (HRE), promote transnational and transnational cooperation, and enhance the quality of education within these fields.

DARE aims at achieving recognition, visibility and adequate resources for EDC and HRE as a core obligation for the formal and non-formal education systems throughout Europe.

DARE has been established to address three shortcomings in the present arrangements for European NGOs carrying out invaluable work in EDC and HRE:

- The prevalence of NGOs which tend to work without adequate resources and in isolation, and are therefore inhibited in their access to information, to potential European partners, and to effective lobbying.
- The tendency to treat separately the distinct but nonetheless closely interrelated fields of HRE and EDC.
- The distance between research and practice, academia and activists, political scientists and educators in EDC/HRE.

DARE network

- Activities 2008 – 2010

DARE's work plan for 2008-2010 includes Special Interest Groups, Synchronized Action Days, a conference and a hearing on EDC/HRE in the European parliament.

Special Interest Groups (SIG) are the think tanks of the network. They use the expertise of the partner organisations to develop educational tools, policy recommendations and collect evidence on the state of affairs in European EDC and HRE.

Synchronized Action Days (SAD) are the tool for action and dissemination on a grassroots' level. The SADs shall be an appeal to DARE members to make a contribution in form of an awareness raising activity for EDC/HRE in its local, regional and national environment.

A conference on intercultural competences in the field of HRE/EDC provides the opportunity for practitioners to meet policy makers and vice versa. Recommendation summing up the outcomes will be documented with access to the public.

DARE organizes a hearing in the European parliament to link the members' expertise and recommendations back to European policy making. This will hopefully be a first step to the recognition of DARE as a European key player for EDC and HRE and lead to securing adequate resources for organizations active in the field.

Principles of Democracy and Human Rights Education

Democracy and human rights education encompasses the right to know, seek, obtain, receive, hold and disseminate information about all human rights and fundamental freedoms, including information as to how human rights and freedoms are given effect in domestic legislative, judicial and administrative systems in democracies.

The core elements of democracy and human rights education are:

- the universal character of human rights
- the respect for democracy, human rights and fundamental freedoms
- empowerment of the individual citizen and groups to make full use of their democratic rights
- the combat against discrimination, racism, xenophobia and related intolerance
- gender equality
- inclusion of persons with disabilities
- active citizenship.

Democracy and human rights education is a life long process. As such it is an integral element within formal, non-formal and informal education and embraces all citizens, particularly marginalised or disadvantaged groups.
